CLASSES

Heres to a big misand
but a good one. Remember me as a History Class mate
Your Friend
Geneva Gorout

We like you, Mr. Hawkes. We like your friendly smile and genial personality. They are already winning for you a fine following among Salina citizens and carving for you a special niche with the students.

Introducing

CHARLES E. HAWKES has just completed his first year as superintendent of the Salina public schools. For the first time his picture is appearing on the pages of our yearbook, and we hope that it will be there for many, many future years.

PRINCIPAL W.W. WARING is the unifying force of all Salina High School, for his efforts have made spirit and tradition a part of every student's life. We are truly grateful for his intelligent leadership during the past thirteen years.

Brown

NAMED by the Athletic Board as the most valuable athlete from the 1939 Class, Paul Van Cleef well deserves the honor achieved through these five points: loyalty, training, sportsmanship, morale, and record. Paul's rating on each of these points was excellent. His record shows that he has won two letters in football (was 1938 captain), one in track, was chosen for the 1939 All Star C.K.L. football team, and is a member of both the National Athletic Scholarship and National Honor Society.

SHIRLEY SHAVER had the honor of being chosen Salina High's first football queen, and indeed it was a wise choice for where could we find another as charming, brown-haired, blue-eyed lass. The night of the Salina—Ellsworth game she was presented to Salina football fans by President Reed of the Chamber of Commerce before a large homecoming crowd. The 1939 Trail and News Staff is proud to have sponsored the first Homecoming and the first football queen.

Beauty

Poise

HELEN JANE EVANS, chosen by the seniors and the Washington faculty to be the Representative Girl of 1939, adequately measures up to the five requirements: achievement, comradeship, cooperation, dependability, and ideals. Quiet though she is, Helen Jane has made her personality felt by the marked ability she has displayed in whatever she has done. Rating high in scholarship and music, and in other activities she is truly representative of the 1939 senior girls.

REPRESENTATIVE senior boy of the 1939 Class is Bob Morrison, a dark-haired, brown-eyed boy who has shown by his effective work and genuine interest in Salina High activities that he is qualified for this highest of honors to be awarded by his classmates and teachers. Bob has ranked high in scholarship, earned a letter in track, served as athletic treasurer, and been a member of the Student Council for the past two years. We are proud that his name will be placed on the Honor Plaque along with those of other representative seniors of Salina High.

OWEN E. HODGSON is the building principal at Washington. Knowing personally some five hundred juniors and seniors may seem like a gross impossibility to many, but it is just an everyday thing to him. Reserved in manner and mild in speech, Mr. Hodgson is endowed with that priceless quality of understanding. This coupled with enthusiasm and encouragement for every worthy student enterprise places him high in our hearts.

Our Coaches

PETE PHILLIPPI, head football coach and new to Salina High this year, did well with his fine group of huskies who ploughed their way to second place in the C.K.L. Considering the time necessary for the boys to learn Mr. Philippi's formations, signals, and plays, our coach is to be commended on his fine work this year. In addition to his duties as head football coach, Mr. Philippi mentored the B team in basketball.

EARL MORRISON, head basketball coach, built an excellent team this year from very few lettermen and developed many stars for '40. E. A. Uhrlaub, is in charge of two spring sports, track and golf; he is also Junior High coach of football and basketball. Jesse V. Cooper, as assistant coach of "B" football is Coach Chesney's able assistant in preparing material for the "A" squad. C. E. Bare, tennis coach, turned out a skillful squad this year. C. O. Scott aided in training Junior High football aspirants. L. W. Chesney, head coach for "B" football, went places this year, his boys winning four out of seven games.

"A" Squad

THE SALINA HIGH "A" football squad had a very successful season despite the minimum of experienced players and the difficulties of learning entirely different plays and tactics under the new coach, Pete Philippi who came from Chapman to receive the reins from ex-coach DeGrazz. Under the able leadership of captain Paul VanCleef, one of the remaining two lettermen from last year's squad, the Mustangs team finished second in the C. K. L. race. For the first time in several years the Maroons were victorious over the Cardinals in Sudbys. Following the loss of this win came defeat for them by McPherson and City Center. Realizing the squad determined to defeat their rivals of equal standing, Atene, it did so, however, in its success with Herington's defeat. In turn, this victory proved a deterrent. Thus, at Chapman, the Mustangs lost by a small margin and received a consolation check in the last game of the year put together. Perhaps the most remarkable game of the year was played against that of Salina High's first Homecoming. In it the Maroons with splendid defensive and offensive playing defeated Elisworth. Graduating this year are Paul VanCleef, Bob Stevenson, Ken Coe, Fred Cole, Jimmy Meadows, Bob Swedersky, Dick Bulley, Bill Cannon, Gene Mine, and Charles Barnett. Still in the option is the team of 30 which will be under the captainship of Virgil Olsen, a fleet footed man. Bud Moore, Clyde Eds, Charles Eberhardt, Del Johnson, Rodney Meadows, and Eugene Mine will hold down first-team positions. These Mustangs, it is certain, understanding the essentials of championship football, will fight hard for a first place berth in the new league which is being formed. Of the past year's games some of the impressions most probably imprinted on our minds are these: VanCleef's spectacular runs, Cochrane's short passes and plunges, Jimmy Meadow's finding openings in seemingly impassable lines, and the steady cool playing of sophomore Clyde Eds. Not mainly this team of 38 was known for their indomitable spirit and the individual striving of each separate player to make his fullest contribution to the success of the team.

THE MAROON 'B' and the Junior High teams are less publicized and less talked about than the "A" team but in reality they are no less important than the "A" team. They represent long seasons of training and hard fast football games from the eighth grade on. Their one objective is to become good enough to be on the "A" squad. Some of the boys on the "B" team never get on the "A" team, perhaps because of their size or because the competition is too keen. These "B" team boys do not play football to relieve time but because they like the sport. The training they receive on Junior High and "B" teams teaches them the rules and fundamentals of the game they need to know when they report for the "A" squad. The "B" squad which includes freshmen, juniors, and sophomores is coached by L. W. Chesney and J. V. Cooper. They play not only the "B" teams from the other schools but also the "A" teams of some of the smaller schools such as Solomon and Custer. The 1938 squad led by Junior Williams, Ira Finney, and Dick Rosberg won three of their eight games, tied one and lost four. Coach E. A. Ulrich's Junior High team, made up of freshmen and eighth graders, was even more successful than the "B" team. They won all their games. The main reason for their success was Bill Bradley ninth grader and big backfield man, who did nearly all of their ball carrying. If these players continue to improve at the rate they did in the 1938 season, they should provide very tough competition for the schools of the newly-formed league of which Salina is a member.

Reserve Squads

THE MUSTANG team of 1938-'39 had as good a record as could be expected with only one letterman, Bob Stevenson, left from last season. The Mustangs started the season with three non-league losses to Hutchinson, Lawrence, and Hays. In their first league game the Matrons took the opener from Lindsborg 31-13 and by two defeats; one by the Abilene club 23-31 the other by McPherson 27-17. The Mustangs then beat the Ellsworth Bearcats 38-24 only to be beaten the next game by Herington 20-18. After losing the next game to the Cowboys 19-16, the Mustangs won three straight from McPherson, Ellsworth, and Chapman. They then lost to Herington 27-31 but won the last game of the season from Lindsborg 40-20. The Mustangs finished in fourth place with seven victories and five defeats. Leading the team throughout the season were Junior Williams with a total of 114 points and the crew 33 points. Playing in the Regionals the Mustangs played some of the best brand of basketball of all the year. Starting in the first round they defeated the Ellsworth Bearcats and advanced to the semi finals against Herington. After being beaten twice in the league by the Railroaders the Matrons turned the tables and beat them advancing to the finals against the McPherson club. Playing one of the best games of the year, the team beat the Bullpups 24-23 and won the Regionals for the first time since 1934. Winning the right to go to the State Tournament the Mustangs drew the powerful El Dorado team which had been spotted second place in the state. Due a great deal to nervousness and tendency to miss the basket the team was defeated and El Dorado went on to win second place. With this year's top four scorers being juniors the Mustangs next year should have a very powerful team.

SALINA JUNIOR HIGH squads turned in a favorable record for their basketball season with the freshman squad winning four and losing four games and the eighth graders winning six and losing four. It is expected that the eighth grade team will be invited to play in the all-star game at the state school as an excellent chance to make the first squad next year. Most of the players on the ninth grade team will be on the B squad next year and will be aided by those boys from this year's Freshmen who are now sufficiently screened enough to make the first squad next season. The players on the present eighth grade team for this season will comprise the freshman squad of 1948. Both junior squads developed wonderfully well under the capable supervision of Coach Dutch Urdahl who also had charge of the same fellows in junior high football. The starters, and those who have had a very good chance of making the B squad next year if they improve in proportion to the progress made this year on the freshman squad are for Bradley, Keittine Smith and Leo. Boys from the younger junior high squad who started the majority of the games and who are most likely to make the freshman team are White, Williams, Stewart, Cramer, and Fahring. Each junior squad includes about 20 players, the number slightly more or less set up for the games. Next year's first and second members probably will be much smaller in size, but with a year's growth no one can prophesy how they may rate in comparison with the ninth grade huskies of this past season.

SIXTEEN Salina athletes make up the 1939 membership toll of the S. H. S. chapter of the National Athletic Scholarship Society with their excellent performances on the gridiron, the track and with their better than average work in the classroom. The names of the boys, their grade, and the sport in which they received their qualifying letter are as follows: Cecil King, senior, football; Paul Van Cleef, senior, football; Charles Eberhardt, senior, track; Bob Morrison, senior, track; Angi Olson, junior, track; Carl Pomer, senior, track; Lois Stevenson, senior, football; Bob Swedelburg, senior, football; Bob Cannon, senior, football; Gene Mize, senior, football; Rodney Snare, senior, football; Eugene Vitter, junior, football; Bill Ripley, junior, football; Jim Carl, senior, football; Bill Norris, junior, football; Clyde Ellis, sophomore, football. Congratulations, boys, your records are excellent. Being admitted to this honorary scholastic society is no easy matter for there are exacting qualifications which must be met by the applicants. Any boy in the tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grade of Salina High School is eligible for membership in the National Athletic Scholarship Society if he meets the three following specific requirements: First, the athlete must have earned a letter in either a major sport, as football, track, or basketball; or in some minor sport, tennis or golf. Second, his average grades for three consecutive semesters, before, at the time of, or after he has earned his letter must be equal to or higher than the general average of the school. Finally, the applicant must have exemplified the highest type of citizenship and sportsmanship. The National Athletic Scholarship Society was organized in February, 1925 by a group of secondary school principals in Washington, D.C. Since that time the N.A.S.S. has grown to be a nation-wide organization with 1500 local chapters representing 48 states.

HAVING lost its two best golfers by graduation last year, 1939's golf team brought out a brand new crop of divot diggers to cover the greens for Seminole under the guidance of E. A. Upton. Jack Moore, junior, headed the team this year, it was supported by Ben Cudwell, Bill Lentz, Eric Cain and Gilbert Redden. After beginning their golf career for S.H.S. these boys placed second in their first C.K.L. tournament, losing to Abilene. This excellent start proves that the second and championship year is to Seminole next year. Jack's show on the course the past season hints that he should capture many honors in his senior year. This season marks the last meeting of the C.K.L. teams and is there will be a new league next year with larger schools for members in it. Stiffer competition is expected.

Up-to-Par

Love Game

SALINA HIGH'S netmen came through with a fairly successful season of play in which ten meets were scheduled including four tournaments and six dual matches. Lettermen for this year are David McCarty, senior, who also lettered last year, Bill Curr and Harold Hines, seniors; Bill Traylor, junior, Scott Harvey, sophomore, and Jay Hines, freshman. With only three lettermen graduating tennis coach C. E. Bare believes that prospects for a championship team next year are better than for the past several seasons. Members of this year's team in whom Coach Bare is placing his hopes for 1940 are Scott Harvey who probably has had more experience than any other man on the team, Bill Traylor, and Jay Hines. Harold Lear, squad member this year who did not play quite enough to win a letter, and a promising group of freshmen will give strength to next year's squad.

TRACK AND FIELD activities at Salina High this year found seven lettermen—Charles Eberhardt, Gail Porter, Bob Morrison, Virgil Olson, Don Mowe, Cecil King, and Bill Cochrane—on Coach "Dutch" Uhrlaub's squad of 50 boys. "Pete" Philippi assisted Uhrlaub in coaching the 1939 Tracksters. Early season interscholastic competition resulted in an easy victory for the junior team, which included sophomores, seniors, and freshmen ranking in the order named. In the first interscholastic meet with Topeka Mustang cinderlemen came home with only three firsts in their total of 32 points. Eberhardt in the 440; Struble in the high hurdles; 880-Yard relay run by Struble-Swedenburg-Van Cleef-Thyfault. Other point winners in that meet were Virgil Olson, Gail Porter, Clyde Ellis, Bill Murphy, and Cecil King. The junior relay team (Thyfault-Cannon-Olson-Eberhardt) took first place honors in the meet held at Emporia early in April, in connection with the track coaches' clinic sponsored by the Emporia Teachers College. Gordon VanPelt and Gail Porter, Mustang distance men, scored the only Salina points in the April 8 Sterling Relays, winning a third place in the half mile and the mile run. As this copy went to the printer April 17, Mustang track men were scheduled to enter a triangular meet at Chapman April 18, the K.U. Relays April 21-22, dual meet with Hutchinson April 29, v. K.L. in Salina May 5, the Salina Regional May 12, and the State Meet at Emporia May 19-20. Salina entries in the K.U. Relays, numbering less than ten, included men's relay team and individual entries in the dashes and distance runs. Regional entries were those who had placed first, second or third in a meet approved by the state board and one in which at least four teams were entered. Although the early season performances of this year's trackmen did not equal that of the 1938 lettere-champions, the showing made by the junior and sophomore members promises better records for 1940.

They're Our Tracksters

They Broke a Record

THE 1938 mile relay team composed of Bill Reed, senior 1938; Junior Housington, senior 1938; Charles Eberhardt, junior; and Virgil Olson, junior, ran the fastest mile in the state of Kansas in 3:26.2 at Emporia last May. This is the first time in the history of Salina High track that such honor has been won for the school. Bill and Junior graduated in '38 and broke up the champion relay team. Eberhardt and Olson have two more years to hold the record or maybe better it. The new mile eclipsed the old record of 3:29.2 by 1.8 seconds. Charles and Virgil are both fine athletes lettering in track and football. Virgil will be a man of the 1939 football team. All the boys on the relay team range into the six foot territory except Virgil who is shortest, but that fact does not decrease his running ability. Bill Reed is now enrolled at Kansas University and is keeping on with his running by working out for the K.U. freshman track squad. Charles is the third Eberhardt to letter for Salina in track. Besides running the male relay he ran the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes, winning many firsts namely the Hutchinson and Central Kansas League 440 yard dashes. Both Charles and Virgil should win many points for Salina High in their Senior year on the track squad next spring.

Orchestra – Band

They Play

THIS ORCHESTRA of 100 members is something the vacant seats filled many, and I enjoyed another year of music. The group of 85 students met at school day long for an hour and fifteen minutes under the direction of C. F. Levy, and spent many enjoyable hours learning piano and parts of sections. Not all that time, however, was spent in playing, several periods were devoted to the study of music terms, and methods, and types of music. One hour kept in the orchestra for improvement of sets, which was the record machine which was used to great advantage. At least one record of an orchestra number was made each month and the 'canned music' helped to point out the parts which needed correcting or improving. The orchestra also was divided into several smaller sections which practiced individually. In this way the individual members were to practice all the year. Two other groups of present members are brass and woodwind ensemble. The orchestra, brass, and woodwind records have as the usual department and the solo groups play as their last numbers produced. However, the program 'Say It With Music' was a continuous train of tunes with the orchestra always assisting. Featured from this program was a march, 'Lambeth Walk', and a concert of solo orchestra members. The orchestra will be heard in the fall in the concert series and will make its last appearance this year and bid adieu as the '39 orchestra of Salina High.

SALINA HIGH'S BAND under the leadership of C. Levy conducted the annual band festival at the Kansas City Auditorium. The band, in addition to its own music, performed pieces by other schools to be the show piece of the day. The band, after several trials, first left band room at 8:30 a.m. stage. During the day, it was the band's privilege to start at 9:30 a.m. and become a part of the audience for a time, practice the second from being second. Street Marion East High Charles, and the three SHS members of the band, V. R. O'Conor, S. M. S. and G. L. make the band a better one by their many hours of work and practice. They had accepted an invitation of Kansas State College to be a part of the opening of one of their home football games. This was unique. Many will be remembered by band masters and their students. Respecting the requests of students to attend each number of the concert, five items in particular, the orchestra, the band, the pep band, the band in the basket ball games. The first of the city school gymnasium presented as a benefit to help to give the purchase of the uniforms, and for early in the fall to the uniforms of the well-dressed Salina High bandboy—or girl.

a Capella Choir

UNDER the adept baton of A. M. Thompson, 78 miscellaneous voices developed into Salina High's popular and outstanding a Capella Choir. At the cost of broken batons and rolled-up-shirt-sleeves, Mr. Thompson whipped into shape the numbers that the choir so willingly presented for the entertainment of civic programs, at church services, and P.T.A. and assembly programs. The choir participated in the state contest at Emporia and the regional contest at Kansas Wesleyan, where they "strutted their stuff" and obtained high honors. "Say It With Music," Salina High's all-school show, was aided and abetted by the choir. Commencement night brought to a conclusion the activities of the '39 a Capella Choir as the members donned the maroon robes to sing a final number for the students and patrons of Salina High.

THESE industrious looking individuals represent the student councils of Washington and Lincoln building, and though you wouldn't believe it from looking at them, they have put in a very busy year. They are the group which display the democratic spirit of the school and assist by originating and promoting new plans and ideas during the year. The effectiveness of this student work depends greatly on the leadership of those chosen, and the initiative which they display in promoting the projects. Each year the group has added a festive note to their building at Christmastime by erecting a tree in the main hall. The Lincoln Student Council, with the advise of faculty members planned and carried out all their assembly programs during the year, and also had charge of stirring up the enthusiasm in their building for Costume Day. The Washington group tried diligently to reimburse their empty treasury by selling the new maroon seals, and also they tried to promote school dances. Lastly both councils elect a point-system secretary each year who has the arduous task of checking and compiling the innumerable points turned in by students who are trying for the letter awarded at each year's end.

NATIONAL Honor Society members from the senior class number 38 this year, 26 girls and 12 boys. From the upper one-third of the senior class ranking highest in scholarship, the Washington faculty by a majority vote selected the 38 seniors on the basis of their character, service, and leadership qualifications. This year's group, the sixteenth to be chosen, brings the total membership of the Silina chapter to 368. National Junior Honor Society members from the sophomore class includes 13 boys and 21 girls, a total of 34 new members which brings the chapter membership to 161 representing seven classes. National Junior Honor Society members are elected by the Lincoln faculty from the sophomores, ranking, scholastically in the upper ten percent, on the basis of character, service, and leadership.

THE SALINA chapter of the National Forensic League is not only the most active chapter in Kansas but the largest. The N.F.L. sponsored one of the largest debate tournaments in Kansas which was attended by 200 debaters from 25 Kansas towns. The chapter also sponsored Stunt Night which was seen by an enthusiastic audience of 600. The debate season this year was unusually successful from the standpoint of debate tournaments attended. The Mustang debaters attended tournaments at Hays, Topeka, Coffeyville, Emporia, Wyandotte in Kansas City, the C. K. L. and the District in Salina, and the N.F.L. tournament that was also in Salina. A new idea in debate was started when a number of freshmen and sophomore debaters were made members of the regular squad and participated in the tournaments at Salina and Emporia.

Good Luck Trail Staff

STUDENTS meet the staff that submits ~~for~~ to your approval the '39 Trail. This group of 47 has been working steadily and with eager anticipation since it was organized at a journalism conference in October. As new and unique ideas were forming, Ye Ed and her assistants began to develop bigger and better brainstorms. Burning literally gallons of midnight oil, they worked and schemed for what they hoped would be a super annual. Among the staff's activities were the collecting of photographs, the compiling of information on class groups, school organizations, and activities, the writing up of sports and features, and the collection of advertising material. The greater part of the Tramp's 62 pages was handled by Jeanne Brock, staff photographer, and her assistant, Donald K. Johnson. The Trail was greatly benefitted by their splendid work and time willingly contributed. The event of Lower-day 12 February's winning the State Night prize money for a hard working staff brings indeed considerably the prospect of a truly striking annual. Brock's possible additional finishing touches that make it the streamlined book you see today. Through out the eventful year, advisers, editors, and staff members each made his contribution and as the year draws to a close, the staff leaves Salina High with the feeling that it has been a pleasurable task.

GET IT RIGHT; get it now, but get it right," a slogan familiar to all journalism students, was the basis of their activities during '38-'39. Through the cooperation of the printing department advisers, and the various news departments, fellow students and school patrons were kept in touch with school and city news events. The 47 members of the two journalism classes planned the 30 issues of the News, that included special Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Years, April Fool's Day, and several other six-page and seven-column issues. How familiar became the words "copy," "dummy," and "lead;" and how each aspiring journalist scraped his inches together. In addition to editing the paper, the staff gained a broader knowledge of current events, became familiar with terms used in a newspaper office, and acquired a more extensive vocabulary. Each staff member strove to give his stories accuracy, clarity, and timeliness. Extra effort was made to cover the activities of every school organization. Several stories of unusual merit were published in the Salina Sun or Advertiser. The year was highlighted by a journalism conference at Lawrence early in the fall, where ideas were obtained for a better school paper and a better yearbook. The visits of famous personalities such as James A. Farley, Glenn Cunningham, and Karl Krueger, gave opportunity for personal interviews with outstanding celebrities. Each staff member gained a wealth of experience and had a great deal of fun as a Salina High Journalist, and we pass from S.H.S. portals with every good wish to next year's prospective journalists.

UNDER the auspices of Blaine Sites the Washington Kodak Club was able to "click" this year. Members of the club, after learning the fundamentals of photography were active in recording for the school, "shots" of social and athletic events. One of the most active members was Derald Kauffman who spent many hours "in the dark" developing and printing, and who would be seen "flashing" around at games. The club boasts a dark room which is open for club members during free periods of the day and after school; there is also a camera that may be used on special occasions. The Kodak Club is governed by a constitution which requires for membership first semester merely an interest, an available camera, and 25 cents used for buying supplies for the club; for the second semester, a developed negative and a printed picture from each member and an additional 25 cents. The club elects its officers at the semester rather than the beginning of the year so that the officers will have experience in the club before serving.

HEART and So—oul," grouped around a K.S.A.L. mike the Lincoln quartet and sextette "swing out" on one of the season's most popular tunes. Being two of S.H.S.'s most popular groups, what could be more fitting? But the lighter type of music is not the extent of their ability. The girls sextette has had a hand in making school programs the more interesting; likewise the boy's quartet has taken part in many such programs. Chosen for their ability and blending quality of their voices, both groups have spent hours of practice under adept supervision of Alfred Thompson who holds at the tip of his baton that certain touch that all true musicians must possess. The slogan "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," would not apply to these groups for there is a sense of satisfaction in feeling that they're doing something worthwhile— who knows what fame future years may bring to these freshmen and sophomore nightingales!

WASHINGTON girls' sextette, trio, and the boys' quartette have won much acclamation from their fellow students at Washington as well as from other student and patron groups; and rightly so, for they have proved themselves to be worthy of all the laurels heaped upon their heads. How many times have they "given out" at Girl Reserve and Hi-Y meetings, building assemblies, and various other programs. All their contributions no one can count! A large part of their success is rightly credited to Maestro Al Thompson, who gave his infinite patience, his hang for harmony, and his valuable time to the building of something really good. Besides all the fun of being a Thompson Triller, the students also obtained a wealth of experience and training that could in no other way be acquired.

Doodles are pencil pictures of the subconscious mind. Every body draws them. Students like doodling too but usually lack the spare moments in which to do it. Others like it because it gives them a chance to let their artistic talents and still others doodle just for the heck of it. On the opposite page are a few of these absent-minded amazements, seemed from not books of famous insuring S.H.S. students claiming that doodles tell us something of those who draw them.

Christine Nelson likes smoothness and harmony in her life. See the couple dancing, graceful, daintiness about them, and the flowing lines of that still, snake-like Louise M. That nearly drawn out mess. That nearly drawn little robot seems to be doing something up exercises. Ed Surface is quite a sense of humor. # Hi-Y Cabinets

WASHINGTON HI-Y This club had one of the most successful years it has known from the stand, out of service and entertainment rendered to the school. The Hi-Y began its good work soon after enrollment by selling hot dogs to all the hungry fans at the football games. Then in October, in cooperation with the Lincoln and Roosevelt Hi-Y's, they brought the famous Kansas older, Glenn Cunningham, to speak to the student body. Sales talk and indefatigable efforts sold for them, bushels of "Basketball pencils" and pin chokers in their efforts. The programs of the year were arranged in series of three, one was an entertainment program, one was a speech by a prominent Sumner, and the third was a free-for-all discussion among the fellows of the club.

LINCOLN HI-Y The members of this club spent a great many of their worthy minutes on vacations as they went courses in school boys school to help them after they graduate. The club sent two members, Maurice Miller and Clayton Henry, to the Hi-Y camp to return in Eldorado, who give some very interesting reports to the club upon their return. The Lincoln Hi-Yers helped their Washington big brothers put over the Marion Mustang pencil campaign, and were instrumental in the success of Glenn Cunningham's visit. The club also did its part in helping the needy by giving a basketful of food both at Thanksgiving and Christmas. One of the highlights of the year was the installation of officers in the fall and the open house at Y. M. C. A. in the spring.

ROOSEVELT HI-Y Devoting a large amount of their time in discussing some very interesting problems in school and the world at large, the Roosevelt Hi-Y spent one of the most interesting years in club work that they have ever had. Their programs were divided into projects that were further divided into discussion topics. The boys started in the fall on sportsmanship and discussed what could be done to remedy the attitude of a poor sport. The next project was one of racial difficulties in which they ferreted out the source of the trouble and what could be done about it. In order to fill the club purse, these young Hi-Yers used lungs and legs to hit a new high in hot dog sales among the grandstand fans. A party in February was the big social event of the year.

MUSTANG PETE

Ole Mustang Pete
Is a bowlegged chap
With very large feet
And a weather-beaten map.
Now, Mustang Pete
And Washington High
Are getting so old
They're about to die.
But, before they do
Just to show we're true—
We'll pen some lines
And their lives review.

• • • •

Patrick Henry once said, "Give me Liberty or give me death." Now one says, "Give me Liberty or give me Life—they're both good magazines!"

I'll bet the man who said, "Third time's a charm," never tried skipping school!

"BAR O" NURSERY RHYMES

BY

MUSTANG PETE

Cal, Cal, the grocer's son.
Learned to play when he was young,
Now Cal could play 'bout any tune,
And play 'em so well, the gals did swoon.
Cal with his clarinet did make such a noise
That he surely pleased both the girls and the boys.
And they couldn't stand still, when they heard him play,
For to hear him play was to swing and sway.
Cal with his clarinet did play with such skill
That those who heard him could never keep still;
Whenever they heard him, they began to prance,
So they all bought tickets and went to the Jive
Club Dance.

—(Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son)

MUSTANG PETE'S ESSAY ON MAN

At thirty man suspects himself a fool;
Knows it at forty, and reforms his plan.
At fifty he chides his infamous delay,
Pushes his prudent purpose to resolve
In all the magnanimity of thought;
Resolves, and re-resolves, then dies the same.

MEATY MUTTERINGS OF MUSTANG PETE

To keep out of jail, don't take things seriously.

The fellow who watches the clock is likely to remain one of the "hands."

Never be jealous of the chap who is much sought after. Remember the burglar.

A bald head is no disgrace-- if the baldness is confined to the outside.

When a man's the flower of manhood, is he a blooming idiot?

A diplomat is a man who remembers a woman's birthday but forgets her age.

The scientist who declared that kissing is a silly practice that would be considered barbarous a hundred years from now, is a wise bird. He put the date far enough ahead so he won't miss anything.

SECOND NATURE

Have you ever noticed the little things about most of the people here at school—little actions or habits which seem to be a part of them—so much so that they would seem unnatural were those characteristics lacking? In the hall or classrooms I am sure we've all noticed

Carl Meyer—surrounded by girls
Van Cleef and Wells—holding hands
Glen White—grinning
Betsy—drinking a coke
Gus Geoffray—trying to get a tardy excuse
"Prof" Hensley—arguing
Betty Tibbets—trying to be inconspicuous
Herb Illingworth—heckling somebody in the office
Henry Hay—rushing somewhere at break neck speed
Fincher—with a bruise or black eye
"Stupe"—being friendly to everyone
Nanceen Hiller—telling someone how to spell a word
U's—rushing this to beat the deadline

O, SENIORS! MY SENIORS!

(WITH APOLOGIES TO WALT WHITMAN)

O, Seniors! My Seniors! at last our time has come,
And we will "Commence" now, the brilliant with the dumb.
No more will we jump and start—when we hear that tardy bell.
Our last Prom is o'er now—and gee! but it was swell.
O, Seniors! My Seniors! our last school day is done.
We all have weathered every test, the prize we sought is won,
The end is near, the sighs I hear are Seniors,
all lamenting.

PUPPY LOVE

He stood looking at her with a shining light in his eyes. Her golden hair shone like spun gold in the still quiet of the summer moon. The breeze tossed her curls and made her even more beautiful, her eyes lighted up to reflect the one star gleaming above. No word passed between them.

As they walked along the sandy path, they came into the shadow of an old oak tree. He stopped. She raised her head expectantly.
Still he did not speak. She made a short, puzzled sound in her throat. He sighed with a quivering joy, his heart beating fast, then stroked her silken hair. They went on down the road together—Tom and his prize-winning pekingese dog.

TO NEXT YEAR'S SENIORS

We're yelling for next year's senior class,
Our nerves are feeling the strain;
Our school year will soon be o'er, but alas
There's loss where there ought to be gain.
We've got spring fever—our teachers we grieve
For we'd rather be out with the masses;
Those parties, and picnics and meetings—leave
Us tired—and we sleep in our classes.
I hope the good fairy calls upon you
With good grades and a year full of cheer;
And then may you say—and know it is true
"This has been one grand senior year!"

CONSOLATION

Don't worry if your grades are low
Or if your rewards are few
Just remember that the mighty oak
Was once a nut like you.

LOVE UNREQUITED

There they stood 'neath the mellow moon.
Oh that lovely night in June.
Her dusky locks were softly entwined
With blossoms of rarest perfume;
Each motion a poem, and manner refined,
Her movements entrancing even to gloom,
She stood with lashes demurely downcast,
The world at her feet—a kingdom so vast
His manner so stately, an asset supreme,
His protecting arm to her so appealing.
Truly the answer to this maiden's dream,
Still her placid expression remained unrevealing.

He gazed and his eyes were filled with yearning;
Inside, his heart with love was burning.
Still they stood, through wind and weather,
Worlds apart though close together.
Yes, they remained through cold and hot,
Forever rooted to the spot
Two trees.

(with apologies)

How can I thank you for letting me pass—
My dear Miss Smith, I'm through at last
How can I say, in a line or two
How much it means to be passed by you?

Only to find, in recitation, my mind blank!
But you seemed to understand,
And now, with diploma in hand,
How can I thank you, Miss Smith?

THE KILL

A soft sneaking sound was in the hall . . . Ah! Now he had his chance . . . he had longed and waited for this chance for such a long time . . . why he had dreamed of it for months, and now his chance had come. There she sat, the most wonderful creature and yet the most hateful and annoying. Before Bob had come to town she had been all his and wouldn't have thought ever of passing him up for anyone . . . but she would be sorry, and so would Bob.

Pansy sat looking out the window . . . if only Bob would call . . . It seemed ages since she had last seen him. Dick was nice, but he got on her nerves. Well, she would sit here and wait for Bob.

Dick entered as she sat looking into space. Probably thinking of Bob . . . if he were only sure she wouldn't do this again, he would let it go by. But she was the most annoying thing that had ever been created. She didn't deserve to live. This wasn't the first life she had ruined . . . there had been others before. That he was sure of . . . now to make the kill.

It didn't take long. It had been so simple that he wondered why he had been so long in making up his mind to commit the murder. She had died bravely. Well, now she would have all the time she wanted to think of Bob . . . and he wouldn't care now.

At that moment the mistress of the house walked into the living room and was aghast at the sight she saw. Her beautiful cat, Pansy, lying in the middle of the room, torn and strewn over the floor, and Dick, the sulky wire-hair, standing over her with a sort of smile on his face and blood on his mouth . . . Dick had made the kill.

MUSTANG PETE GETS A LETTER
"Monday Morning"

My Dear,

"We've come a long way together;" "Thanks for the Memory" for "Day after Days" I get "That Old Feeling" of "School Days."

"I Believe in Miracles" for now I'm a graduating senior, but I see "Blue Skies" ahead. "So Help Me" for "I'm a Jitterbug" but I used to be "Teacher's Pet" but "You Never Know" I might be a success yet.

Remember when I used to date "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son?" Now I have a "Bashful Lover" but "I Wish I Had You!" But "Let It Rain, Let It Pour," "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" for "Love Is Where You Find It."

Well, "Be a Good Scout" "My Cowboy from Brooklyn." For "I'm Yours"

"Marie"

P.S. "I'll See You in My Dreams."

Dearest Mitzi,

Here I am up in the attic surrounded by old trunks. I came up here to find a costume for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed's little boy for Costume Day at S.H.S. Evelyn can't find the overalls and big straw hat that she wore on Costume Day back in '39. Remember that Cram Gang? Well, now they own a chain of beauty salons over the country. Surely, you also remember how stunning Aileen Jewell looked in her Japanese pajamas. She came home last month from missionary work in Japan and dropped over to see me.

What are you doing in Berlin? You wrote that Jeanne Brock had the lead in "Faust" this season and that Mary Bell has put her French and art to work in her hat designing career in Paris.

Do you remember Don Forrey? Well, he's one of the new science instructors in Salina High School. You know that they have a new building at last don't you? Jack Waring was the architect, Herbert Nash the contractor, Royal Anderson, the plasterer, and Don Mowe contributed an excellent portrait of the old Washington building for the auditorium. Postmaster David Robb, Mayor Tyson Beasley, Governor Jack Horner, and Senators Donald Johnson and Jack Hensley were all here for the dedication.

You should see the splendid daily paper that Dorothy Schrader is editing with Carl Meyer as assistant editor. O, yes, Ralph Smith is one of the announcers over KSAL. Every Saturday evening at six J. Rex Watkin's orchestra under the sponsorship of the Price Grocery Stores plays the Hit Parade, while Frances Jensen and Phil Gard sing the vocal arrangements. Helen Jane Evans is the "Story Lady" who is on from four to four-thirty every afternoon. Mary Cheney has made a grand success in Hollywood with Jerry McNamara as her manager. Producer Melvin Jarvis found that Leah Mae Green has the new type of glamour that the public is craving.

You might run into Margaret Mary Reed, Mary Jean Miller, and Naneen Hiller somewhere in Paris as they are visiting there and on the Riviera again this year. Royana Bailey was with them for a while, but she returned Rodney Smith was sent to Berlin yesterday by President Cannon as our ambassador and he told me to tell you that he would be expecting you to drop in at the embassy quite frequently.

Well, my dear, I really must cease this chatter and continue my search for that costume.

Yes, they all come and go. Your latest "pash" flashes by and then your latest "peeve" flutters along. What do YOU like to do best? Let me see . . .

Several people (a surprisingly large number) go to the study hall and study their afternoon lessons. Others loiter in the halls and sit on the steps, studying and playing. A few couples stroll around the building looking sheepish-eyed and very much in love.

With all the cars there are across the street, they all seem to be packed—just flowing over, with both boys and girls. Some cars attract more than others though. They all sit over there and "bull" and "coke." Great Sport!

I've heard they even study over there. Quite a studious bunch we have in school this year don't you think?

Nice days bring forth cameras and all the little kiddies stand around posing for their pictures, but the fellas manage to get a lot of awfully candid shots when the victims are most unaware.

The Student Council and Hi-Y members run around selling stickers and pencils. They seem to be doing quite a thriving business too. That's the spirit, fellas, stay right in there and work.

The bell rings and there is a mad dash for books and classes. A few late dashers run to the office to get excuses and interrupt the now quiet (?) classes upon entering.

This pictures one of more typical days at school and we all know that we wouldn't change them for the world.
